A recommended guide for our members and associates

1. Introduction

The ThinkTree Hub is an international professional association for complementary therapy, wellness/wellbeing, healthcare, education and support and guidance.

One of ThinkTree Hub's primary focus of CPD courses is to give members the opportunity to participate in 'approved' or 'accredited' Continual Professional Development (CPD) training. This is where members and others can be safe in the knowledge that the course has been reviewed and approved by the ThinkTree Hub quality assurance team.

Its objective is to enhance professional standards for industry requirement. All members adhere to the ThinkTree Hub Code of Conduct and Ethics in Practice.

It is important that members and associates demonstrate a continued commitment to standards and therefore continue with professional development (CPD).

The purpose of this guide is to set out the ThinkTree Hub policy so clarity is established and members understand why and how CPD can be maintained and recorded.

You may already be familiar with CPD as many professional associations (PAs) already require it for continued membership. You may already engage in CPD activities that are acceptable to professional associations. ThinkTree Hub strongly suggests you maintain and upskill your industry understanding to enhance your knowledge.

ThinkTree Hub aim is to support members and CPD providers as far as possible in meeting CPD requirements whilst ensuring standards are maintained.

2. CPD definition

ThinkTree Hub has a clear and basic definition of CPD which includes the safe practice of theoretical or practical knowledge to enhance growth and development and to meet industry needs face to face and on-line.

ThinkTree Hub do not offer approval for any qualification that appear upon the Government Qualifications framework – Qualifications Credit Framework

(QCF) or National Qualifications Framework (NQF) approved by the Office of Qualification (Ofqual) on behalf of the UK Department for Education as these are already ratified and in place.

With ThinkTree Hub approved CPD courses you will have the right to use the ThinkTree Hub approved CPD logo. The ThinkTree Hub approved CPD logo should not be used to imply that you or your courses are approved or accredited by the ThinkTree Hub unless you have gone through the ThinkTree Hub accreditation process and had approval.

3. ThinkTree Hub's approach to CPD

Members' CPD is based on what they require to advance themselves in whatever activities are necessary to develop and advance learning. CPD is recorded annually, which enables the member to identify a selection of activities to take place in a timely manner. Where there is practical skills enhancement be advised of vetting the provider of a safe and quality standard.

4. ThinkTree Hub CPD requirements

Standard 1:

ThinkTree Hub members must aim to ensure that their CPD enhances their professional practice with practical or theoretical knowledge.

Standard 2:

ThinkTree Hub members are strongly advised to complete a minimum of 15 points or 15 hours CPD each year.

Standard 3:

ThinkTree Hub members engaged in CPD would be advised to keep an up-to-date log of their CPD activities with evidence to demonstrate their participation in each activity (for any audit purposes).

5. Meeting the ThinkTree Hub CPD standards

Standard 1: ThinkTree Hub members are encouraged to aim to ensure that their CPD enhances their profession. This will help you develop your career and core skills.

Standard 2: ThinkTree Hub members are encouraged to complete a minimum of 15 hours' or 15 points (CPD) each year. This is inclusive of practical and theoretical skills as well as any new knowledge that can impact and develop you further. ThinkTree Hub recognises that each member's learning is unique and therefore a wide range of activities may be required on an individual basis, therefore there is differentiation of learning needs.

Your needs may fit into the following:

- How do I improve my practice theoretically or practically?
- How can I keep up with current trends, new techniques and good practice?
- How do I improve myself?
- What knowledge do I need to improve myself/practice?
- What can I learn from observing other therapists/members/practitioners?
- If I want to specialise in a particular area of practice, what types of activities would be most useful?

Standard 5: ThinkTree Hub members are encouraged to keep an up-to-date log of their CPD activities with evidence to demonstrate their participation in each activity. This can be kept on the ThinkTree Hub evidence log sheet.

6. Unable to meet the CPD hours?

ThinkTree Hub understands although CPD is to be completed annually other things in your life can take priority. Therefore, ThinkTree Hub does encourage participation to keep up to date with the e-newsletter as one form of CPD and other events which are recommended monthly. Other advice and support are available should it be required.

7. CPD audit

ThinkTree Hub will audit to spot check some CPD in line with this policy.

8. Choosing relevant CPD

The text below gives examples of some types of activities that you may wish to consider when planning your CPD.

9. Group activity

Attendance at seminars, workshops and lectures which enhance your knowledge and skills. This could include webinars where you are interacting with other practitioners online or by telephone.

Attendance at conferences or meetings which are dedicated to clinical practice or learning more about the discipline(s) you practice.

Peer supervision where you meet with other practitioners from your discipline(s) and learn from each other about best practice.

Being an examiner, tutor or assessor in the discipline(s) for which you are registered, where these are developmental and learning opportunities rather than regular activities included in your work.

Providing taught sessions where these are occasional and represent a developmental activity for you rather than something you do on a regular basis as a tutor.

10. Personal study

Client case studies. Undertaking these would be used to demonstrate the learning which has resulted through the course of providing treatments and how this will improve the service you provide to others in future.

Personal study which could include following a formal programme of study either taught or possibly distance-learning. In either case you must be able to describe what you have learned from this and how you will put it into practice in your work.

Reading such as articles in journals, books or on-line which provide learning you are able to put into practice in your work as a practitioner.

Research – if you are participating in a piece of research which is enhancing your understanding of your discipline and / or practice.

Writing articles or books which are published.
